GARDEN PARTY. An alfresco garden setting in a valley offered the natural elements that Allyson Levine and Steven Joseph desired for their rehearsal dinner. Star-shaped lanterns, potted plants, and twinkling Italian string lights were suspended overhead by an elegant canopy of overgrown wisteria. Long tables adorned with mismatched linens displayed candles and arrangements of plants, herbs, and fresh flowers. A watercolor place card and gold-rimmed plate presenting a sprig of fresh herbs adorned each place setting. Californian and Italian cuisines were served to guests family-style, alongside artisanal beers and local wines. "We were together for almost nine years before we said 'I do,' so every person at the table truly knew one another," affirms the bride. Personalized gifts were given to each guest, and in return, words of love, advice, and wisdom were shared with the couple. Photographed by Elizabeth Messina
